ARGUE EXCEPTION TO AGREEMENTS FOR PROPERTY TAKEN

Dispute Arrangements Made By Bucks County Commissioners With Owners

JUDGES HEAR THE CASE

Will Hand Down Opinion In
The Case at a Later
Date

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 6.—Exception to the agreements between Bucks County Commissioners and two property owners in Langhorne Manor along the new Lincoln Highway construction job, were argued in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Bucks county before President Judge Hiram H. Keller and Judge Calvin S. Boyer.

The Court will hand down an opinion in the two cases in the near future, it was intimated after the hearing.

The County Commissioners recently reached an agreement with John and Josephine Schmidt, property owners along the line of the newly constructed super-highway, to pay them $6000 damages. A similar agreement was also reached between the Commissioners and Benjamin P. Fesmire, another property owner to settle for $4900.

An appeal was taken some time after the settlement by a citizen of Bucks county, James Fitzgerald, of Mechanics Valley, acting in behalf of the Bucks County Taxpayers' Association. The opponents of the settlement reached by the Commissioners contend that the damages to the Schmidt property are entirely too high, and that money can be saved taxpayers if other agreements could be reached.

At the hearing, Harry Grim, of Perkaskie, represented the protesting taxpayer and County Solicitor Mark Thatcher, of Perkaskie, represented the Commissioners.

Charles H. Heyer, of Bustleton, a well known expert on real estate value, testified that in his opinion the $6,000 agreement was not in the least bit, exorbitant.

County Commissioner John S. Roberts, Jr., of Bristol, estimated that it would cost $2500 to move the Schmidt house to a new foundation, as suggested by the opponents of the settlement. He said that it would cost as much as $1,000 more to rough-grade the property and that the damage to trees and shrubbery would be additional.

"We were guided by a board of real estate experts in deciding to pay Schmidt $6,000 damages," Mr. Roberts testified. "We took into consideration what they told us and in addition, we settled for what we thought was the proper amount, which certainly was less than if a board of viewers would have assessed damages."

Bristol Girls Hop Freight; Found Asleep at Newark

Two youthful Bristol girls did a walkathon to Trenton, N. J., on Monday, then they hopped a freight train and rode to Newark, N. J. The ride made them sleepy and they were found slumbering soundly in an open freight car on a Newark siding of the P. R. R.

The girls were turned over to the police of Newark who learned their identity, after considerable questioning.

The two youthful train riders gave their names as Catherine Quigley, 17, West Bristol; and Bessie Doyle, 16, 704 Corsen street, Bristol.

JEFFERSON A. C. WINS JUNIOR LEAGUE CROWN

Defeats Harriman No-Names
By the Score of 9 to 7
in Exciting Game

TILT A THRILLING ONE

Before a large crowd of enthusiastic spectators last night on Leedom's Field, Jefferson A. C. came from behind to nose out the Harriman No-Names with a sensational rally which set the fans on the edge of their seats with excitement as the "Mules" fought an uphill battle to victory and the championship of the League, winning by a score of 9 to 7.

The game was a real thriller all the way having good and bad fielding, some good batting, plus some good pitching and poor pitching. It was a typical championship game from start to finish, being crowded with thrills and excitement all the way through.

The "Mules" came through with a late dash at the finish to win out with a belated rally showing their fighting spirit which brought them the second half pennant.

The series was decided in three games, J. A. C. winning two to one by taking the first game 10-3, then after losing the second game 6-5, came back to take the third and final game of the series and the championship, winning 9-7.

The petition was made by the County Commissioners, asking for permission to sell the lots at private sale.

The heirs of William H. Kiefer have agreed to purchase the lots for $262.85, the amount of costs and taxes. This procedure was taken because the heirs failed to redeem the lots within the two-year period.

Hearty Laughter Caused By "Here Comes The Groom"

Good, clean, hearty laughter is the current offering at the Grand Theatre where "Here Comes The Groom," with Jack Haley, Mary Boland, Neil Hamilton, Patricia Ellis, Isabel Jewell and Sidney Toler heading an imposing cast, opens tonight.

"Here Comes The Groom" is pure farce, built around Jack Haley's well-known and well-loved dead-pan comedy. Haley, who recently scored in "Sitting Pretty" with Jack Oakie, has been waiting for a vehicle like this to give full scope to his fun-making powers.

The story concerns Haley, a harmless piccollo player, who, to please his sweetheart, Isabel Jewell, undertakes a robbery. During the hold-up, the tables are turned on Haley, and, deprived of his clothes and forced to flee from the police, he takes refuge in a Pullman compartment. The compartment is the honeymoon headquarters for Patricia Ellis, whose bridegroom, the famous "Masked-Tenor" of radio, has just deserted her.

Miss Ellis, ashamed to return home without a bridegroom, forces Haley to act the part, and introduces him to her family as the famous "Masked-Tenor." Her aunt, Mary Boland, receives him gushingly and precipitates one embarrassing situation after another for the perspiring Haley.

Haley's position is made infinitely more precarious by the radio, on which the real "Masked-Tenor" vocalizes. And the climax is capped by the appearance of the real "Masked-Tenor" in the Ellis home to claim his bride.

MANCHUKUO PALACE CLOSELY GUARDED BY THE JAPANESE

Fear of Fire is Great Menace
To Residents Of Chengteh

WOODEN BUILDINGS OLD

Never Before Was Summer
Palace Thrown Open To Common People of Jehol

(The following is the third in a series of articles on a 900-mile journey into Manchukuo by John Goette, Peiping correspondent of International New Service.)

By John Goette
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHENGTEH, Sept. 6.—(INS)—Leaving the north gate of Koupeikou my truck bounced from stone to stone in the river bed road over country that is indubitably Manchukuo. A Japanese sentry sitting on top of a barrel of pickles with his feet straddling an American sewing machine was there to protect this Japanese transport line.

For 44 miles we bumped along through mountains and plains with frequent stops to get the bogged truck out of mud or to unload the mails, provisions and the sewing machine at scattered garrisons of the Japanese Kwangtung Army.

It was after midnight when the truck stopped in front of barbed wire entanglements on the main thoroughfare outside Chengteh, Jehol's capital. A slow and careful count of passengers was made by an armed sentry before we reached the heart of the old Manchukuo. I found shelter for the night on the floor of the Yamato Hotel.

With daylight I was greeted by the sight of a vastly altered city. A few Manchukuo flags were lost in the welter of Japanese emblems flying from private houses, government bureaus and military offices. Where sleepy Chinese carts used to move about, there is now the rush of great American trucks belonging to General Sugawara's 7th Division, which garrisons the province.

At the historic Summer Palace, built by Emperor Kang Hsi in the late 17th century, I presented my letters from Colonel Shibayama, Japanese military attaché in Peiping and General Sugawara, his chief of staff, Colonel Hamamoto, and the latter's two assistants, Majors Mabushi and Kotai, made arrangements for me to continue my journey into Manchukuo by airplane.

Over this Summer Palace gate now flies the Rising Sun flag. Sentries stand by large block houses with machine gun apertures. In the buildings of what was once the Imperial Theatre are now the headquarters of the 7th Division. Office walls are covered with operation maps. In the grounds along the lake, the former heroin factory of the last Chinese governor, Tang Yu-lin, is a military hospital. Japanese troops were practicing with rifle grenades and machine guns, their shots reverberating for miles in the surrounding hills.

My hosts, officers of General Sugawara's staff, explained that the palace was a military reservation and therefore all women were barred. I was also told that the Japanese officers are not allowed to bring their wives to Manchukuo since the army is still

J. WOODROW TO DIRECT OAK GROVE PLAYERS

Some Productions of Eddington Players to Benefit
Parish House Fund

TO PLAN SCHEDULE

EDDINGTON, Sept. 6.—Preparations for the outlining of a schedule of rehearsals for the Oak Grove Dramatic Club were made at a meeting of the members, and tentative casts considered. Announcement was made that the club plays will be directed this year by John Woodrow, director and manager of the Sorebia Players.

Mr. Woodrow, who has had considerable experience in dramatic play dictatorship, stated that at the next meeting he would announce the cast for a play to be staged at St. James' parish house, Bristol. Proceeds of this affair will be given to Christ P. E. Church, Eddington, to be added to the new parish house building fund. The parish house was recently destroyed by fire.

The Oak Grove players are also contemplating presentation of a performance at the Manor Theatre, Croydon, for the same purpose. Recently a donation of over $50 was presented to the Rev. Arthur F. Gibson, rector of Christ Church, by Mrs. William Weller, former treasurer of the Ladies' Guild of Croydon Episcopal Mission, which organization is no longer active. The donation was made as a memorial to the late Rev. Stewart, former rector of Christ Church, and local preacher of the Croydon Mission, which no longer exists.

Bazzel-Umberger Marriage Vows Taken in Trenton

LANGHORNE, Sept. 6.—On Saturday afternoon at the Wesley Methodist Church, Trenton, N. J., Miss Ida M. Umberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Umberger, became the bride of William L. Bazzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bazzel. The ceremony was performed at 2:30 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. Samuel Templelin.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in peach mousseline de soie, with a large peach hat and slippers to match. Her flowers were white roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The maid of honor, Miss Mildred McGrath, chose a blue mousseline de soie frock with a large blue hat and corresponding slippers, and carried peach roses and blue delphinium.

Carl Bazzel served as best man for his brother and was assisted by Archie Kauffman. The nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Archie Kauffman, sister of the bridegroom.

A reception was held for the immediate families, at the home of the bride's parents, after which Mr. and Mrs. Bazzel left for a honeymoon trip to Chicago where they will attend the Century of Progress Exposition.

Mrs. Bazzel was formerly connected with the Bureau of Child Hygiene, at the State House. Mr. Bazzel is an attaché of the Langhorne postoffice.

After September 15th the couple will be at home at 134 Winchester avenue.

WOMAN RESCUES CHILD FROM BURNING HOUSE

Youngster Ill in Bed Wrapped in Blanket and Carried
To Safety

FIRE CAUSED BY STOVE

MORRISVILLE, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Arthur Planter, Sr., of Upper River Road, this place, battled through flames and smoke to rescue tiny Arthur Planter III, who was sick in bed, when fire broke out in the Planter home early yesterday morning. She wrapped the child in a blanket and carried him to safety.

The fire started in a bucket-a-day stove, which Planter, Sr., and his son, Arthur, Jr., started early in the morning "to take the chill off the house." The sleeping occupants were aroused by the smell of smoke, and Mrs. Planter rushed to the aid of the infant.

Unable to reach a telephone because of the dense fumes, Mrs. Planter rushed to the home of Charles Gunn, of Ferry Road, to notify the fire department. A passerby, however, had already noticed the blaze and had sent in the alarm.

Both Capitol View and Union companies responded to extinguish the fire. The firemen rescued a cat, which was practically suffocated before it was carried from the home.

After the firemen had returned home the blaze broke out anew, and was discovered by newspapermen on the scene. Harry J. Hunt again notified the fire companies, but Jack Scullin of Washington street, extinguished the second blaze with a garden hose.

Held Under $400 Bail For Hitting Man in Mouth

MORRISVILLE, Sept. 6.—James Velsch, of Bristol Pike, below Morrisville, was held under $400 bail by Justice of the Peace William H. Kunsman here yesterday on the charge of assault and battery. L. A. Howell, local hardware merchant, went his bail and he was released to await the next term of Criminal Court.

Velsch was arrested for an alleged attack upon Joseph Bux, of Fallsington, who made the complaint. Bux, in his testimony before the Justice of the Peace, stated that he had gone to Velsch's home to collect a bill, and when the two entered Bux's truck, Velsch reached over and punched Bux in the mouth, loosening two teeth.

Constable William H. Stradling made the arrest.

DROPPING SOCKS ALONG THE STREET

(By "The Stroller")
Tuesday evening a well known young lady of the First Ward was seen distributing men's socks along the sidewalk as she nonchalantly walked up Pond street.

She was dressed in yellow and carried a black coat over her arm from which the socks dropped, one at a time. Whether they were distributed in pairs or not I could not say.

The young lady in question was unaware of what was happening until her "sock dropping" was called to her attention. Then she retraced her steps and picked the socks up one at a time, very much abashed in doing so.

It appears that the young lady's mother had been ironing and the socks had been neatly placed on the back of a chair. The coat was also thrown over the back of the chair and then picked up hurriedly and carried up the street.

MAY ASK LEGISLATORS TO SERVE WITHOUT PAY

Harrisburg, Sept. 6.—The Federal cash piggy bank was turned on again today to supply the state's 300,000 needy families with $10,500,000 for September relief, while Governor Pinchot labored on the text of his proclamation calling the legislature into special session next Wednesday noon.

Announcement of the September grant was made in Washington by Harry L. Hopkins, Federal Relief Administrator, after a conference with Eric H. Biddle, executive director of the Pennsylvania State Emergency Relief Board.

Hopkins previously indicated the Federal pocketbook would again be opened to the state upon convocation of the legislature to deal with the relief question.

Speculation continued meanwhile over the scope of the Governor's proclamation concerning which he maintained deep silence. Friends close to the executive said he was contemplating a new and heretofore untried plan which he would present to the legislature. It was not ascertained at once whether the Governor was planning to request the legislators to serve without pay. Members of the House and Senate will receive more than $125,000 in salaries for attendance at a special session. Having already notified members of the legislature by mail that the Assembly will convene on Wednesday, the Governor was utilizing the additional time to shaping his call. He has yet given no indication on whether the call will be "wide open" to social legislation as demanded by George H. Earle, Democratic candidate for Governor, or restricted to relief as demanded by most of the Republican leaders.

Preceding conferences with legislative leaders were expected to get under way in Harrisburg shortly.

MARGIOTTI NOT A CANDIDATE

Pittsburgh, Sept. 6.—Heedless of the pleas of friends that he again make the race for the Governorship, Charles J. Margiotti, Pittsburgh and Punxsutawney attorney, today announced he would not participate as a candidate in the Fall campaign. If any petitions are filed to place his name on the ballot, Margiotti said he would file necessary papers to withdraw his name. In making his announcement the noted criminal lawyer made no mention of candidates he will support in the coming general election. He made his primary battle as an Independent Republican.

DREDGES START TO DEEPEN CHANNEL OF THE RIVER HERE

Two Powerful Machines Will Work Day and Night Until Job is Finished

TO BE WIDENED ALSO

Channel Will Be Made 100
Feet Wider and Five Feet Deeper

Work of further deepening and widening the Delaware River channel is expected to get underway today, when two powerful dredges, and possibly a third dredge, will begin "blowing" sand, gravel, cobbles and clay to the various deposit areas.

The dredges, "Lake Ellendale," owned by the Standard Dredging Company of New York, and the "Pittsburgh," owned by the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Company, are here and pipe-lines are being laid. The third dredge, known as "No. 5," owned by Gahagan Brothers, New York, is expected to arrive soon.

The "Lake Ellendale" is in position on the Bristol Range. She will dredge the upper two-thirds of the Bristol Range, and all of the Keystone Range, or that portion of the river channel extending approximately from the Anchor Yacht Club to the upper wharf on the property formerly owned by the Keystone Aircraft Corporation and recently purchased by Fleetwings, Incorporated.

The "Lake Ellendale" is a lake steamer converted into a dredge, the bow and stern having been cut off. This dredge will deepen the channel on the ranges mentioned above from 20 feet to 25 feet, from 200 feet to 300 feet, bottom width, and widen it gradually sloping at the sides toward the shores. It is estimated that this dredge will be required to move about 400,000 cubic yards of sand, gravel, cobbles and clay. A cubic yard weighs approximately one ton, as the material is heavy. The work will extend over a period of three months.

All of the material dredged by the "Lake Ellendale" will be deposited on the East side of Burlington Island, and on the flats along the New Jersey shore, extending from Burlington to Florence, N. J. These flats are to eventually be built out to within 150 feet of low water mark, and on a level with the road extending along the New Jersey river bank.

The "Pittsburgh" will dredge that portion of the channel including the lower third of Bristol range, Canal, Lehigh and Devlin ranges to that portion of the channel which was deepened in 25 feet last Fall. The "Pittsburgh" will remove approximately 900,000 tons, and the work is expected to take about four months. All of the material removed by this dredge will be deposited on the low lands at Maple Beach, above the center road and above and below the approach to the Burlington-Bristol bridge. About 70 acres of land will be filled in. Idle Lake will remain as it is at the present time. One mile of dykes four feet high has been thrown up around the area to be filled in.

JAPAN EYES PHILIPPINES

There is no empty threat in the words of the Japanese consul general at Manila that should the Philippines, after gaining their political independence, seek to continue on a basis of free trade with the United States they must also throw open their ports to Japanese exports.

When the Japanese want new foreign markets they have a custom of sending the army and navy after it. China found that out and the Filipinos probably will learn it in the same school not long after the last American governor sets sail for San Francisco.

Trade conditions mutually advantageous have delayed Filipino independence for several years and have made the wards of the Pacific hesitant about accepting freedom. This situation has never been to the liking of Tokio, and explains the Japanese propaganda for Philippine independence. The Japs are awaiting the divorce to begin wooing.

In view of the proximity of the Philippines to Japan, the power of Tokio in the Orient and the predominant Japanese population in the Philippines, it is doubtful if the archipelago can preserve its freedom a decade after the United States relinquishes its guardianship.

HARDENED TO CRIME

In a certain country town years ago, there was a burglary one night. It was a peaceful sort of burg, where such events were almost without precedent. The amount of loot captured was not important. But people were stirred to their depths. Nothing else was talked of for days.

People dreamed what they would do, if some night they woke up to see some bold bad man pointing his gun at their heads. Some days later, a man was arrested charged with this offense. To accommodate the crowd desiring to attend the hearing, it became necessary to adjourn to the largest hall in the place, holding over 400 people.

The crowd packed the room, and listened with breathless attention. The emotion which stirred that community illustrated the simple and trustful life of those days. Bandits and hold-up men, racketeers and gangsters, were unknown.

Suppose in that same town today, someone were arrested charged with a similar offense. How much of a stir would be created? Would the crowd pack that old hall? Even if not many burglaries are even now committed in that still peaceful neighborhood, people read about those doings every day. Their minds are hardened to them, and they would not be so shocked. Probably the little office room in the village hall where trials are ordinarily held would hold all spectators now.

Thus is reflected the way our thoughts have hardened about crime. It has become a commonplace, something that people feel can't be helped. But it can be helped. If people would devote their utmost attention, through schools, homes, and churches, to steer the young folks away from crime, and would give them opportunity through work and play to work off their superfluous energies, crime would again become a minor factor.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get them two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

Making Salads Appeal to the Eye As Well As the Taste

Summer days are truly Salad days and what could touch the spot with more appeal than cold fruit or vegetables on crisp lettuce leaves or refreshing meat or fish salads that are not too heavy? Suppose, today, we go into this business of making a salad—one that appeals to the eye and the palate as well.

In making a salad, the first thing to do is make the lettuce deliciously crisp, and to do this, we must wash it under cold running water. Then dry the leaves very carefully and put them in a container in the refrigerator. Of course, we're not always going to have lettuce for the base of our salad, but the same principal applies for making crisp whatever we happen to use. For the base of a salad we may use endive, chicory, romaine, watercress or even cabbage.

The next thing to keep in mind, is, if we are using fruits that discolor quickly, such as pears, apples or bananas, to sprinkle a little lemon just over them to keep them fresh looking until they are served. When we select ingredients which are to be diced or chopped, we should do this dicing or chopping with a sharp knife and then toss the ingredients lightly together.

Meat, fish or vegetable salads are improved by marinating, and to do this, make a dressing of 3 tablespoons of oil, one tablespoonful of lemon juice or vinegar and a seasoning of salt and pepper. Place the meat, fish or vegetables, as the case may be, in the dressing and place in refrigerator for about one hour before serving. Suppose I give you several salad recipes today. The first is what we might call a Harlequin Salad with its combination of tongue, lima beans, pickles, etc. But here is the recipe.

Harlequin Salad

1½ cupfuls boiled tongue, diced
1½ cupfuls cooked lima beans
1/3 cupful sweet pickles—chopped fine.

1½ cupful stuffed olives
1 tablespoonful mayonnaise
3 tablespoonfuls salad oil
3 tablespoonfuls vinegar.

Salt and pepper to taste.

Blend together the mayonnaise, oil, vinegar and salt and pepper. Then combine this with the tongue, beans, pickles and olives. Chill thoroughly, drain and serve on crisp lettuce, or watercress, garnishing with additional mayonnaise and rose radishes.

Another delicious salad is an orange mint salad. It calls for four oranges, which should be made into sections, and have all white membrane removed; 3 tablespoonfuls confectioner's sugar, 2 tablespoonfuls lemon juice, a dash of salt, 2 drops of almond extract, 2 tablespoonfuls chopped mint and one third cupful mayonnaise. This is an easily made salad, and a bit unusual. Merely combine all ingredients except the chopped mint and mayonnaise. Chill it and arrange on crisp lettuce leaves. When serving sprinkle chopped mint over the top and garnish with mayonnaise.

Ham Luncheon Salad

1 cupful cold boiled ham—cut in cubes
½ cupful celery—chopped fine
½ cupful green pepper—chopped fine

½ cupful dill pickle
1 cupful fresh cooked peas
2 teaspoonfuls minced onion
Lettuce and mayonnaise.

Season ingredients with salt and pepper to taste and mix with mayonnaise, serving it on cold lettuce leaves. If desired, garnish with sliced tomatoes, hard cooked egg or pickled beets.

of water cress. Mince finely 1 teaspoon of parsley. Peel a medium size cucumber and slice cross-wise. Peel an avocado and slice that thin lengthwise. Slice crosswise 6 red radishes and 1 cooked carrot. Cut 4 or 5 tomatoes into eighths. Heap all these vegetables lightly in the salad bowl with a French dressing made by soaking 1 crushed clove of garlic in a proportion of 2/3 oil to 1/3 vinegar half hour. Just before serving remove the garlic and add 1 teaspoon dry mustard and pepper to taste. Beat well and pour into the salad bowl just before putting in the vegetables. Toss lightly until every bit of salad is coated with a thin film of dressing.

Grapefruit and Pear Salad

Separate the sections of a large grapefruit, skin each section and remove seeds. Sprinkle lightly with French dressing which has been seasoned with paprika, salt and pepper. Use halves of fresh pears or canned pears. Dress lightly with the French dressing after cutting each half into three lengthwise sections. Arrange the grapefruit and pear sections in the salad bowl or on individual nests of crisp lettuce leaves, garnish with rings of green pepper and chopped green mint cherries. Dot with mayonnaise.

Molded Olive and Nut Salad

Dissolve 1 package of lemon gelatin in 2 cups boiling water. Cool and add one-half cup chopped nuts and one-half cup stuffed olives, sliced. Place in an oblong pan or in individual molds to stiffen. Serve in nests of crisp lettuce and garnish with tart mayonnaise.

Bacon and Potato Salad

4 large or 6 medium boiled potatoes
½ Bermuda onion
½ pound bacon cut in small pieces and fried
2 hard cooked eggs
½ cup cooked peas
3 tablespoonfuls mayonnaise
1 teaspoonful vinegar
Salt and paprika
1 head of lettuce

Wash the lettuce, shred fine and chill. Place in a large salad bowl. Cut the potatoes in ½ inch cubes. Add the onion, finely chopped, then the bacon, vinegar and mayonnaise. Season with the salt. Add to the lettuce and garnish with the egg slices, peas and paprika. The eggs chopped finely and the cooked peas may be added to the salad if you prefer.

Savory Green Bean Salad

Cook green beans until tender. Prepare enough to make 2 cups; add 2 tablespoonfuls chopped green pickle, 1 onion minced fine, 1 canned pimiento, minced, ½ cup mayonnaise which has been blended with 1/3 cup chili sauce. Mix, chill and serve on lettuce leaves.

HOLLYWOOD, . . . —The story sends shivers up and down my spine. This week a certain Hollywood couple who have been married many years hovered on the brink of the divorce court. The husband, an actor, nearly 50, had become infatuated with a pretty young thing in her early twenties. The triangle had reached the stage of a showdown. The actor's wife consulted an attorney. It even became necessary to tell the couple's young daughter. And what did the sweet kid do? Bravely suppressing her tears, she came up to her father and said: "I can understand someone falling in love with you, daddy, but I can't understand you falling in love with them."

For two and a half months, Jean Parker has received flowers from a mysterious admirer. They come regularly, twice a week—gardenias on Monday and red roses on Wednesday. No card was ever inclosed. The whole family was consumed with curiosity—Jean, her guardian and particularly Francis, Lucas, schoolmate of the youthful star, whom Jean says she will eventually marry.

All efforts to trace the sender failed—until Wednesday. Then Jean got a call on the "Limehouse Nights" set from her guardian. A card had accompanied the flowers at last. And if it isn't giving away secrets, the sender is Aubrey Austin, son of a Santa Monica banker.

Pay special attention to the hymn Gertrude Michael will sing in her new picture, "Mencius." For Gertrude wrote the music for that hymn herself. . . . It was when she was a girl organist at a church in Talladega, Ala. The pastor of the church wrote the words. And it will be the only time the hymn has been sung outside of that church.

What rich and not too popular star just handed out autographed pictures of herself to all members of her latest cast—and without being asked?

Richard Dix and R-K-O Producer Cliff Reid are boarding a plane here to wing it over the Pecos river country in Texas. They'll take a camera and record location country for Rich's new picture, "West of the Pecos". This is from the Zane Grey story. And, oddly enough, Dix made his screen debut in a story by the popular author of westerns.

Hollywood will have to wait six months to see the hunting trophies of Darryl Zanuck. The twentieth century producer left them in Africa to be temporarily cured. Then they will have to be shipped across the Pacific to San Francisco, and from there to Denver, where a firm of taxidermists will spend at least three months on the permanent mounting.

Darryl Zanuck

Darryl got 75 trophies, but is bringing back only the best—about 45 heads and capes, including elephant, rhinoceros, African buffalo, lions and the leopard which Virginia Zanuck bagged. Darryl's original plan was to build a projection room on his Beverly Hills home and to keep his trophies there. Now, he may store them in Denver until he builds his new house next year.

KNICK-KNACKS—

The Arline Judge-Wesley Ruggles youngster has developed such a passion for pushing light buttons that they are installing fake ones in his nursery. . . . Much buzzing among Hollywood's younger set when Gwynne Pickford came to Henry Wilson's party with Billy Janney and left with James Bush. . . . Jackie Coogan also the life of the party when he disregarded Toby Wing's commands and went swimming in the pool—incidentally, the only one of 100 guests to do it. . . . Dance devotees in the film colony are intrigued to hear that Vincent Lopez' band goes into the Beverly Wilshire when that hotel opens up its supper room on September 25. The Lopez contract calls for at least six weeks. He'll double at the Universal studio in "The Life of Ziegfeld". . . . Court engagements kept Lupe Velez from going east with Johnny Weissmuller to the swimming meet. Lupe was doing the Hayworth club the other night with Billy Seymour, the diamond man, and Gloria Sheu, who is by way of being his steady. . . . And the film colony is still hysterical over the way the speaker's table cleared at the Max Baer banquet when Maxy Rosenbloom crossed up Bert Wheeler's gag and the half-pint comedian began tossing vases and coffee pots.

20 California walnut kernels

Manchukuo Palace Closely Guarded By The Japanese

on a war basis. Apology was offered for the food served at luncheon because the Imperial Army was at war. This same impression is conveyed to the natives of Chengteh by the almost daily ringing out of Japanese rifle, machine gun, artillery and even aerial gun fire. Planes swoop down on the nearby hills and drop their bombs. There is no danger to the farmers or city people, but the racket made is heard with a clarity sufficient to discourage any budding revolt against Japanese arms.

With it all, however, there is a certain anomaly. Never before in its centuries of history has the Imperial Summer Palace been thrown open to the common people of Jehol. However, the day before my visit, the Japanese staged an athletic competition in a small part of the palace grounds to which local school children were invited.

On the other hand, the Chengteh natives as well as the people back in China proper, complain of the destruction to their national relic by fire. Some months ago when the 8th Division was garrisoned in the Imperial Palace there was a fire. A few weeks ago a second conflagration destroyed more buildings under occupation by the 7th Division. The Japanese realize the oldness and dryness of the timbers as well as the danger from fire through paper ceilings and partitions. To guard against that, they have dug wells in the courtyards and placed numerous fire extinguishers at strategic points. Elsewhere are many signs warning of fire and indicating where water may be had.

Nevertheless, with the Palace so solidly occupied by the army, and the increasing number of wooden Japanese style structures in the city, great fear is felt that a serious outbreak of fire will some day strike Chengteh, which until the Japanese arrival, was practically free of such menace.

Local Stores Give School Lunch Tips

The American Stores tell of some interesting ways to vary school lunches, this week in their Family Circle Magazine, the weekly periodical that these stores give away to their customers every week. Ida Bailey Allen, homemaking authority, is the author of this article.

With school season starting, mothers are already beginning to wonder what to pack in school lunches. Wise mothers have learned that these lunches must be as tempting and tasty as they are nourishing, and many a plain sandwich has been thrown away, after the sugar or jelly had been licked off.

This week marks the second anniversary number of the Family Circle, which is now given away by food stores to 1,300,000 people every week. Irvin S. Cobb has written a special fiction story, illustrated by Tony Sarg. Thirty famous actors, authors, and artists have sent personal messages to the editor, Harry Evans, famous movie critic, and these are reproduced. Copies may be obtained without a system of permanent sub-cabinet charge at any of the American Stores.

BAN "CAN CAN" DANCE

ISTANBUL—(INS)—The "can-can"—or famous "stomach dance"—has been banned by the municipal authorities here. The reason given for this decision is that the dance "offends public morals." The dance, which is one of the oldest in the East, has always been very popular in Turkey and was frequently danced at marriages and other festivities.

CIVIL SERVICE MODEL

LONDON—(INS)—Possibility that a system of permanent sub-cabinet ministers, who will remain in office regardless of changes in administrations, will be set up in the United States is seen today in the visit to England of a semi-official Civil Service committee of enquiry. The commission has the express approval of President Roosevelt.

MUST SUBMIT LIST OF TWILIGHT ALL-STAR TEAM

The managers of the Bristol Twilight League who have not turned in their All-Star team must do so before seven o'clock tonight or be without a choice in the selection. The Lower Bucks County League team has already been picked and will be announced tomorrow night.

The All-Star game will be played on Leedom's field Saturday, and a capacity crowd is expected to be on hand. Last season the Lower Bucks team scored a 3-2 victory and the Twilight Leaguers will seek revenge.

ST. ANN'S FOOTBALL SQUAD

All members of the St. Ann's A. A. football team are requested to be present at the clubhouse at eight o'clock tonight.

THE PERFECT POISON

MELBOURNE, Victoria. — (INS) — A strange poison which leaves no traces and cannot be discovered by analysis has been re-discovered by Professor Osborne, Dean of the Faculty of Medicine at Melbourne University. It was known to the Chinese 2,000 years ago, and Professor Osborne has found out how to prepare it, after three years' research. The poison is made from the skin of a frog.

RED SOX BANS ADS

BOSTON — (INS) — Advertising on billboards at New Fenway Park will probably be missing next season. Owner Thomas Yawkey of the Red Sox took a look over his ball yard the other day and decided that every prospect was pleasing except advertising on the left field wall. There are very few advertisements visible at New Fenway Park, but even these must go. A solid green background is the batter's delight, but few owners have a bank-roll which permits them to say "No" to advertisers who wish to attract the attention of baseball fans.

DENVER — (INS) — Five wives, each claiming she had to support her husband, obtained divorces in a single day in the Denver district court. The freed women were Mrs. Thomas Swan, Mrs. Gerald Greenfield, Mrs. William E. Rulon, Mrs. Charles H. Boston, and Mrs. Roy A. Thompson.

EDGELY BRAVES TO PLAY SUBURBAN ALL-STAR NINE

The Edgely Braves, winners of the Bristol Twilight League, will play the Bristol Suburban League All-Stars tonight on the Edgely field. Game is scheduled to begin at six o'clock.

The Suburban League team is being picked by the Bath Road Men's Club and a strong line-up will be present. The teams of this vicinity are finding it quite a job to take over the Edgelyites and the All-Stars will attempt to be the first to score a win over them.

The Braves will have their usual line-up with the pitching choice being either Ashby or Wright.

Jefferson A. C. Wins Junior League Crown

Together the two teams committed seven errors but despite this there were also some brilliant plays. The best play of the game came in the fifth inning and favored the "Mules".

Bleakley, first up, drew a pass and was immediately sacrificed to second by Petrick. On Capriotti's dribble down the third base line, Gibson fielded it and faked a throw to first, and upon seeing Bleakley round third for home he reeled and threw to Denny, who realized the play and took Gibson's throw to retire Bleakley on a pretty play.

Berry pulled the next best play when he leaped high in the air to snare Orazi's liner and robbed him of a clean hit. Profy also fielded a good game for the "Mules".

On the offense Spencer and Profy shone for the "Jeffs," the former getting a triple, single and a walk in three trips, driving in two runs, while the latter had a walk and two singles, driving in three runs, while Gibson drew three walks in three trips, scoring three runs.

For the No-Names, Joe Conti starred with Harry Bauroth. Conti smashed out a single and home run in three trips, batting in three runs, while Bauroth had three singles in three trips, batting in three runs and scoring two himself.

Looking at the pitching side of the game we find Gibson and Conti as the rival hurlers. Gibson was battered from the box early, being nicked for six hits and seven runs along with two passes in two innings (none out in third), although his support was ragged. Spencer relieved Gibson with runners on second and third, and none out and proceeded to retire the side runless. He did a great job of relief pitching, allowing only two hits and two walks in three innings and held the opposition scoreless, pulling out of several tight spots. On the other hand Conti was relieved by Capriotti in the fourth, when the "Mules" scored four times to take the lead. The winning run being scored against "Lefty," hence he was charged with the defeat, while Spencer received credit for the victory, coming in when the No-Names were leading 7-2. It was his second victory of the series.

Details of the game: The No-Names hopped off on the right foot, scoring three times in the first, and added four more in the second. In the first, Berry opened with a walk and stole second, while Foell fanned, but Bauroth brought him home with a single to right and proceeded to second when Naylor let the ball roll through him. After Chickaletti fanned, Conti singled to center and when the ball hopped badly passed Mulligan, Conti circled the bases for a home run, Bauroth scoring ahead of him. The "Mules" got two back in their turn. Tomlinson reached first on Bauroth's error and was immediately sacrificed to second by Orazi. Gibson walked and both scored on Spencer's long triple to right. The No-Names hiked their lead to 7-2 in the second. With two out Berry singled to center, stole second, and reached third on Gibson's error on Foell's tap. Berry scored on Bauroth's single to Profy. Chickaletti then hit to Spencer and reached second on his two base wild throw, Foell and Bauroth scoring. This ended the No-Names scoring for that day although they threatened several times after only to have Spencer turn on the steam to stop them. In the meantime, the "Mules" gradually crept up and finally overtook the No-Names. The "Mules" got two in the fourth when with two out Gibson walked, stole second and scored on Spencer's hit to short. Spencer stole second and scored on Profy's hit to right. Then drove Conti from the mound and took the lead with four in the fourth. Rue opened with a walk and was sacrificed by Naylor. Tomlinson walked and Orazi forced Rue at third in attempting to sacrifice, but Gibson walked to load the bases. All runners moved up a base on a wild pitch when Bleakley tried to pick Gibson off second and he threw into center field both scoring tying the score. Spencer walked, stole second and scored the winning run on Profy's single. The "Mules" added an unnecessary run in the fifth. Rue opened with a single with one out. Naylor walked. Rue stole third and scored when Bleakley threw past third into left field.

Harrisburg, Sept. 6 — Dr. James N. Rule, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, today declared he would not go to the Borough of Old Forge, Lackawanna County, to mediate the strike of school teachers there, as suggested in a telegram sent him by the Scranton Times. The borough has been the scene of disorders since the schools opened for the Fall term on Tuesday, despite the strike. Dr. Rule described the situation at Old Forge as "coming along all right."

The Babe Looks Ahead

By BURNLEY

THE Man Who Stands Alone — the one and only Babe Ruth — looks ahead into an uncertain future. What does 1935 hold for the most colorful figure in baseball history? He has definitely announced that this is his last campaign as a regular — certainly he will never again reach the 100-games mark as an active player — and he has also made no secret of his ambition to pilot a big league ball club.

The Bambino's contract with the Yankees gives them title to his services for 1935, and Col. Ruppert has indicated his intention of keeping the Great Man.

However, Joe McCarthy apparently will continue at the helm of the Yankee team, as Ruth's status remains in doubt. It is hardly likely that he would be content to sit on the bench during a large part of the 1935 season, which he would have to do if retained merely as a player.

If Ruth received an attractive managerial offer from another club, it is thought that Col. Ruppert would not stand in his way. On the other hand, there are no apparent openings that look very promising for the Babe in the American League, and the club owners of the junior loop would hardly be so stupid as to let the National League grab Ruth.

That the Babe would make a highly successful manager is the opinion of many shrewd baseball men. Of course, he will continue to be a big gate attraction for many years to come, and his managerial duties would not prevent him from occasionally playing a game or pinch-hitting for one of the regulars.

Ruth is thoroughly versed in diamond strategy and he has a good baseball head. Waite Hoyt has said that he never saw the Babe make a bonthead play on the field. The once mighty Sultan of Swat is also a natural leader and is well-liked by his team-mates. It is imperative for the good of baseball that a managerial post be found for this greatest of diamond idols.
